Usefulness of Borax—Twelve Excellent Uses of Borax in the Home—Household Hints—Four Good Tried Recipes.

BORAX USEFULNESS.

Always have a box of borax on hand, for it can be of usefulness in many ways.

If you desire an antiseptic wash for a cut, dissolve a teaspoonful of borax in a pint of warm water—of course the water should first be boiled, and then cooled to the warm stage, if possible. The solution can be kept on hand.

Put a little in the water in which the hair is washed, if the hair is oily. Be sure to rinse it thoroughly.

Put a pinch in the water in which green vegetables are boiling to make them bright in color.

Add a teaspoonful to the water in which the hands are washed to soften the water—and the hands.

Use it in the laundry to whiten clothes.

Wash blankets in water to which borax has been added.

Wash the kitchen towels in a strong solution of borax, then rinse them, and hang them in the sunshine to dry quickly.

Pour very strong borax down drains to keep them clear of grease and other obstructions.

Add a teaspoonful to a bowl of boiled starch to make it whiter.

Dissolve a teaspoonful of borax in a quart of hot water for cleaning sponges, brushes and wash cloths.

Let greens for salads stand in cold water to which a pinch of borax is added to regain freshness, flavor and crispness.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Roll Tablecloths.

Instead of folding tablecloths after they are washed, roll them, folded once or twice lengthwise, on mailing fine; cover with two cups of cold water and cook half an hour. Add three cups of granulated sugar and cook until sugar is dissolved, then turn into an earthen bowl. Let stand and chill.

Honey Cookies.

One-half cup butter, three-quarters cup sugar, one egg and one yolk, one cup strained honey, grated rind of one lemon, three cups flour, teaspoon baking powder. Cream butter, sugar and eggs together, add other ingredients. The dough should be firm enough to be easily handled—(so add a little more if necessary.) Knead slightly a little at a time. Roll into a thin sheet and cut in cakes. Set the shapes in a buttered pan, beat the white of an egg (left over for that purpose) a little, and use it to brush over the cookies in the pan, then sprinkle on some finely chopped blanched almonds and smudge with granulated sugar.

"It came to my mind that Cuticura Soap and Ointment might be a benefit so I tried them. First I put the Ointment on and then bathed my face with Cuticura Soap. I kept it up for two weeks or less and I was healed." (Signed) William Beechy, Richland, Wash., July 24, 1915.

NORTH ROAD WORK PROVES SATISFYING.

Salt Lake, May 13.—Road work in the northern part of the state is progressing nicely, according to E. R. Morgan, state road engineer, who returned yesterday from an inspection trip through Cache, Boxelder and Weber counties. The work in Boxelder county is in the way of general improvements, but in Cache county it is confined chiefly to grading between Mendon and Cache Junction. The work in Weber county consists chiefly of resurfacing and oiling the highway between Ogden and North Ogden. This stretch was oiled last year and so successful was the experiment that the oiling process is being repeated. Mr. Morgan also reports work progressing nicely on the road through Sevier canyon, between Richfield and Marysville. The road, which is expected to be completed this summer, will lower the grade some eight hundred feet and shorten the distance between the two towns several miles. Much of the work is of a heavy nature and the greater part of the summer will be required to bring about the completion of the new highway.

HEALTH MOVEMENT INAUGURATED IN UTAH

Salt Lake, May 13.—Representatives of a number of social welfare organizations in Salt Lake City, as well as individuals who take an interest in charitable enterprises, gathered in the city council chamber at the City and County building yesterday afternoon for the first social welfare conference ever held here. The meeting was called by the Charity Organization society and Mayor W. Mont Ferry presided as chairman of the conference.

The purpose of the organization was outlined and it was explained by General Secretary W. J. Deeney of the Charity Organization society that the monthly meetings would be held in the future. Mr. Deeney said that it was proposed through the conference to exchange ideas and methods and bring about closer cooperation between the societies and individuals doing social welfare and charitable work in the city.

Similar conferences are held in almost every large city where there are social problems to meet, Mr. Deeney said, and they resulted in more successful and effective work. Speakers at the meeting yesterday urged that the workers here taken an interest in the conference as a means of bringing about greater effectiveness and better organization here.

Want to Organize. Charles De Forrest, field secretary of the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, was the principal speaker at the meeting yesterday. It is the aim of the officers to have another expert in some line of social welfare work lecture at the meeting next month.

Mr. De Forrest explained that his particular mission in Utah at this time was the organization of a Utah Public Health association, the membership of which was to be composed of all persons interested in the promotion of public health measures. Similar associations now exist in forty states, he said. A meeting has been called to convene at 8 o'clock next Friday night in the Hotel Utah, when the association will be officially launched. Mr. De Forrest announced yesterday that a committee had been appointed to draft the constitution and by laws and attend to other details incidental to the preliminary organization.

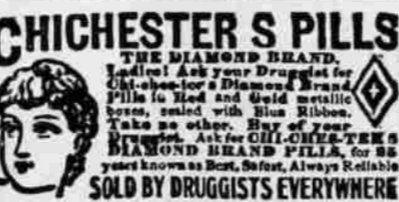

The members of this committee are Dr. T. B. Beatty, secretary of the state board of health and president of the Charity Organization society; Mrs. Arthur H. S. Bird, W. J. Deeney, general secretary of the Charity Organization society; Dr. H. P. Kirtley and Miss Kate Williams, all of Salt Lake; President George H. Brimhall, of the Brigham Young university; Provost Mrs. James Canse, Ogden; Mayor A. R. Heywood, Ogden; Superintendent E. S. Hinckley, of the State Industrial school, Ogden; Q. B. WILL GIVE SUPPORT TO DESERTED WIVES

Salt Lake, May 13.—Wife deserters in the county jail will be put to work on the county roads within thirty days, according to a decision made yesterday by the county commission. Their families will be paid $1 a day while the men are at work. It was practically decided that the first road work to be done would be in Parley's canyon, and about twenty men will be put on the job.

County Attorney H. L. Mulliner advised the commission that Governor William Spry had expressed his willingness to extradite deserting husbands who sought to evade family responsibilities by leaving the state only in the event that the county put them to work when they were brought back. In view of this the commission decided to prepare at once to have the prisoners put to work, especially those held for non-support.
